Our story

There is a prevailing stereotype that older people are less efficient and productive in the work environment – however our research shows that many older people do not feel as if they are ready to retire and would not classify themselves as “old”. For many of our respondents, their jobs represented their way of feeling useful and part of wider society, and described their working life as adding “purpose” or even adding “years to their lives”.

The main idea behind the Time to Share platform is to bring knowledge, skills and experience that older people have cultivated over a lifetime of work to Small to Medium Enterprises (SME's).

Our Mission

Time to share aims to connect small, start up businesses with the knowledge and experience of people who have worked in their industries for years, and wish to carry on sharing their skills through retirement.

We aim to break negative stereotypes surrounding aging, as well as give those who want to share their knowledge and skills a platform to make connections, meet businesses and volunteer their time.

The platform is designed to be easy to use for those who may have age related problems, or be unfamiliar with technology. Simply sign up, input your skills and we will automatically match you up with businesses looking for your expertise.

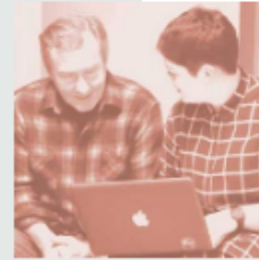

How it works...

- 1 When you join Time to Share you will be asked to input some profile information, work history and skills.

- 2 Based on your profile, you'll be given a list of businesses that match your skills and interests. From there, you can pick the businesses which interest you and begin a chat to see if they're the right fit for you.

Hello Ine, I am great how are you. The sketch looks like a good start, but I think we should reconsider some details. Maybe it would be a good idea to meet on Monday and discuss it?

Anna Becker 11:22
Ben would you also like to join us on monday?

Ben Watson 11:23
Yes that sounds great! I totally agree with you Anna. How about Monday lunch time?

Why volunteer?

Meet new people and share a lifetime of knowledge. You could impart necessary information about your industry to a team of people who are just starting out and your skills could help a growing business reach success.

Meet new people - Meet new people who share your professional interests

Share and learn - Share your knowledge and experience and learn new skills through collaborating with others

Why register as a small business?

Signing up to the Time to Share platform would allow you access to a lifetime of knowledge and skills. Find people with the skills you need for your growing business, get advice and reach success.

When you join the platform you will be asked to enter some details about your business and the kind of skills you require to create a profile for your company. Once your profile is finished, volunteers will be able to start a conversation with you to ask questions and hopefully arrange a placement.

As well as gaining valuable skills for your business, you'll help to keep an older person connected. Many older people do not view themselves as old, nor do they want to retire. The Time to Share platform aims to break stereotypes about older people, as well as giving them an opportunity to share the skills and experience they have developed over a lifetime.
